COMMUNICATION

I was able to win several awards over the years for outstanding audiovisual storytelling. I feel very confident in writing scripts for film, live productions as well as any form of digital content. For many years I have condensed complex topics in various fields into easily accessible and understandable content. A core strength of me is conducting interviews on any level.

LEADERSHIP

For over fifteen years, I have been a schoolboard member of a public school. Being responsible for strategically leading the school and its management, for human resources and comms, I was able to lead and guide many employees. Combine this with the many business leaders I work with, I find myself willing and well able to lead and manage.
